Planning Can Save County From L.A. Fate

"The Country Planning Department is the custodian of county property for the people of the county," Dr. Willis Miller, S. D. County Director of Planning told the Men's club Friday.

He explained that property we are now using is being held "in trust" for generations to come.

"One thing we have in San Diego that many other places do not is that it is "a nice place to live," Dr. Miller said. San Diego is presently the same as Los Angeles was 40 years ago. Unless long-range planning is put into effect we will grow into the hodge-podge similar to L. A.

"The trend is that way - but it doesn't have to be," he said.

He said that his department is nearing completion of a guide on coordinated planning objectives and polices for S.D. County. It will be a guide by which various jurisdictions may operate under a regional program, he said.

This week, the club will hear Dr. Douglas McElfresh, a San Diego civic leader and Port Authority member who will discuss the port development and the effect it will have on east county communities.

Food Tax Plagues Drive-In Users Since New Law

How to convince the public that sales tax must now be paid on food purchased at drive-in eating places was plaguing most drive in food firms in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley last week.

New sales tax legislation, effective September 20, requires that sales tax must be collected at drive-in type places.

Clarification of the legislation on sales tax on drive-in foods sales was made by Richard Nevins, at a speech in Los Angeles, Tuesday night, according to C. L. Hulbert, district principal auditor of the S. D. District Board of Equalization office.

Nevins told a dinner meeting group of the Society of California Accountants that "loopholes had been closed on the sale of meals at drive-in places."

"Under legislation now effective, all food sold by drive-ins is now subject to the 4 per cent sales tax whether sold for consumption on the premises or packaged to be taken home," he stated.

He said the change will relieve the drive-in operators of tax liability for patrons professing to take their food home but who eat it on the premises.

Sales tax must also be collected now on meals sold by employer or employe organizations.

"It is another step toward uniform taxation of meals," Nevins explained. Firms or groups serving five or more employes must obtain a sellers' permit and charge sales tax.

Heat Here Tops 102 Degree Mark

It topped 102 degrees Wednesday at 2 p.m. and that's what made you feel uncomfortably warm.

The thermometer barely topped 102 before it started down.

The same day last week there was a rainstorm.

Dent Challenges Need To Prevent Voting on Cities

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Chairman Robert C. Cozens and Supervisor David W. Bird Tuesday were named by the County Board of Supervisors to represent the county on the controversial New Agency Formation Commission, the super-agency that will control annexations and incorporations.

Two representatives from the cities must be appointed by the mayors of the cities in the county before November 20. The fifth representative will be appointed to represent the public-at-large by the first four commissioners.

As the county's representatives were named, the split between the cities and the county over the new commission was apparent in the remarks of Supervisor Robert C. Dent, who represents a part of the City of San Diego.

Dent Challenges

Dent challenged the need for such a commission that could "prevent the people from voting on incorporation."

Cozens differed with Dent's position, noting that acceptance of the new commission would depend entirely upon the commissioner's philosophy.

Bird said he believed that the commission could serve a good purpose in straightening out some of the annexation problems that cause conflict between different governmental groups.

Dent contended that if this new commission had been in existence earlier, the cities of Imperial Beach, Del Mar and San Marcos would not be in exsistence today.

Cozens argued that he did not believe a commission would automatically have turned down such proposals.

Incorporation Notices Filed

Proposals to incorporate Lemon Grove and Spring Valley were filed with the supervisors Tuesday to avoid the jurisdiction of the new commission. Notices of intention to circulate petitions to form cities in Spring Valley and Lemon Grove were certified by the county assessor as having sufficient signatures to qualify. The notices of intention exempt Lemon Grove and Spring Valley from the jurisdiction of the new commission for 90 days because they were started before the commission was formed.

Bad Annexation Practices

Bird said the cities fought to take such power away from the county in the past and that some bad annexation practices resulted.

Cozens noted that some cities were formed in the Los Angeles area containing only industrial areas with the result that schools were robbed of tax revenue to finance their operation.

Set Up Rules

McLees told the supervisors the new commission will have to set up its own rules of procedure to establish how many members would constitute a quorum. He said there was a procedure established for alternates for the city representatives on the commission, but none for the county representatives.

A move to nominate Mayor Erwin Sklar as one of the two representatives from the cities was started last week with a resolution by the Escondido City Council.

Escondido has opposed the new commission along with all the incorporated cities in the North County. This was reported after an informal meeting Monday of officials from Del Mar, San Marcos, Vista, Carlsbad, and Oceanside. The cities feel the commission, established under new legislation, infringes on the home rule of the cities.

DRIVER MAKES IT A DRIVE-IN PIZZERIA

An auto driven by Charles Markello, a marine who lives at 1458 San Altos pl., Lemon Grove, made an amphibious landing in Pernicano's Pizza Parlor on Broadway, L.G., Tuesday night.

Sam Pernicano, L.G. Chamber of Commerce president, who operates the plaza, was in the midst of making an "around-the-world" pizza.

The driver's foot apparently slipped off the brake and the car ploughed into a pillar at Sam's plate glass window.

Lions To Mark White Cane Days for Blind

Announcement of the appointment of Harold Holaday as chairman of White Cane Days Aid for Blind was made this week by L. G. Lions Club President Howard Matheny. White Cane Days are Oct. 4 and 5.

Holaday, who operates an auto sales and service firm, said the project had produced more than $500 last year and predicted an increase in collections based on public awareness of the club's past effort. All the funds the club collects stay in the L. G. community, he added.

In addition to putting White Cane containers in various stores in the community, Lions members will be stationed at markets and the post office to urge public participation.

Lions Clubs all over the world engage in providing aid in some specific form for sightless and sight-handicapped unfortunates. Projects range from money for research, laboratories and clinics through training and writing Braille including Braille writing machines, glasses, cost of eye surgery, training and the provision of seeing-eye dogs. A different and sometimes lonely world for the blind; Lions will aid in specific projects with funds collected on White Cane Days.

A long-range project of the L. G. Lions club is the eye-examination room the club outfitted at Grossmont hospital.

Lomita Village Youth Confesses Window Breaking

A Lomita Village youth last week confessed breaking most of the windows in his home and the neighborhood after taking a lie dectector test.

Francis Scully, Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. Scully of 872 Billow dr., was put in the custody of Juvenile Hall on malicious mischief charges last week and was referred to the County Probation Department.

Sgt. G. E. Pledger of the San Diego Police juvenile division said young Scully admitted he broke windows in his neighborhood because he was bored and wanted something exciting to do.

Scully's apprehension ended a week-long battle of nerves in Lomita Village. Rocks crashed through screens and windows from late afternoon to early morning hours and continued through last week's heavy rain.

Windows were barricaded in the neighborhood with plywood, planks and blankets.

Mrs. Stephen Murawski of 870 Dell Anne pl., a victim of the stoning, said she and other neighbors called the police department numerous times but didn't get effective protection until Thursday night when she called City Councilman Frank Curran.

Sgt. Pledger said young Scully is an Eagle Scout and is well regarded in his neighborhood. His parents, who earlier participated with other neighbors to catch whoever was causing the disturbance, were very cooperative, Pledger said.

Four New Classrooms Planned for San Altos

The Lemon Grove school district is still growing and four new classrooms must be constructed at San Altos elementary school to ease the presure, the L.G. School Board agreed Monday night.

The board authorized Superintendent Byron Netzley to sell $220,000 in school bonds not now committed. Four classroms will cost $80,000 and the remainder of the issue will be reinvested. The cost of partial bond sales is exorbitant, Netzley explained.

Two new subdivisions within the San Altos area will contain 86 homes and an estimated 70 children will be added to the San Altos school enrollment.

At present, the school's two sixth grades are housed at the junior high due to lack of classrooms. The addition will be ready when school opens in Sept. 1964, Netzley said. Present population at San Altos is 450 plus two sixth grades at the junior high.

In other action the board reinstituted its summer camp program which was cut off last year due to lack of funds. 410 sixth graders will spend a week at camp. The board also approved the formation of a study committee on school district organization. Netzley said the group will be established during October from members of PTA, church civic and service groups.

School Homework: It Varies With Grades But Is Meaningful

How much homework should a child have to do?

That's a little like asking how many times a person ought to see the doctor or how much water he ought to drink. The only possible answer: "It all depends."

Nevertheless, a considerable amount of thought and discussion has been given to the question of homework by both educators and parents. Especially has this been true during the past few years of greatly heightened public interest in the schools.

Not long ago an educator asked several hundred parents: "What would you like to know about your child's school?" Homework was one of the items most often mentioned. Some parents thought their children were being given too much. Others thought there was too little. And many parents wanted to know how they could help.

Educators themselves are not entirely in accord on the question, although a fairly firm and general philosophy seems to be emerging from all the research and discussion. It might be summed up in this fashion.

In the earliest grades there isn't much point in homework. The learning process takes place in ways other than those relating to school — in simple play with other children, for instance. "The business of a child is play," somebody once said, and that applies particularly to children in the first two or three grades.

Still, homework is not unheard-of in the lower grades, and in some districts parents have have been known—especially since Sputnik—to demand it for their youngsters. The problem is to make it worthwhile. Some elementary teachers emphasize extra-reading-for-fun as homework. Accordingly, one 6-year-old, a bright young lady in a rather obvious hurry, romped through 100 extra books in the course of her first year in school.

In another district, where a complete and carefully-thought-out-policy of homework was blue-printed by a special committee set up for the purpose, first-grade teachers send home with their youngsters a brochure with these "homework" suggestions: Experiment with materials such as clay, paper, wood, paints and crayons. Visit local places of interest Read for pleasure and information. Figure mileage on trips and keep track of signs, maps and directions. Keep a record of weather. Write stories, plays, poems, letters, invitations and thank-you letters..

For children in grades 4 through 8, or thereabouts, some judiciously assigned homework is probably in order.

In high school, homework is the rule rather than the exception, increasing gradually from an hour or so in the first years to two hours or more for seniors.

One thing that educators universally are agreed on: Whatever the grade, homework assigned should be meaningful and important—not just "busy work" to impress anxious parents. It should be an enrichment for the better-than-average student and a means by which the slower-than-average may keep up with his peers.

How can parents help? Mainly by providing an environ-

Montemar Set as Reclass Boundary

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — County Supervisors Tuesday eliminated eight properties from an area to be reclassified from heavy agricultural zoning to single-family residential along Montemar dr., in Spring Valley.

Supervisor David W. Bird made the motion to set Montemar dr. as the boundary between the agricultural and residential zoning, overruling a recommendation of the Planning Commission that the area be included.

Dr. Willis Miller, director of planning, advised the supervisors that five of the eight property owners had asked to be left out of the rezoning plan, despite the fact that four of the eight parcels were less than an acre in size.

The area was part of a rezoning plan initiated by the commission several months ago, which drew strong opposition from people west of Montemar dr. who did not want half-acre zoning for the neighborhood.

The supervisors had asked the commission to take another look at the eight parcels, but the commission remained firm in its recommendation in include the area in the plan.

The supervisors Tuesday instructed the county counsel to draft a resolution setting Montemar dr. as the northwest boundary of the plan to rezone from A-4(1), heavy argicultural use, to E-1-A, single-family residential with a half-acre minimum building site.

Minister Marches In Washington

The Rev. John A. Baxter, pastor at Trinity Presbyterian Church in Spring Valley, took part in the civil rights march in Washington, D. C. during his recent vacation.

He said it was felt to be an historic occasion in America's concern for "liberty and justice for all". Rev. Baxter said he was amazed by the self-control exercised by the 20,000 people who marched, and feels that one of the reasons for self-discipline was that most of the demonstrators were Christians.

New adult classes have started at Trinity Presbyterian Church at 9:30 a.m. every Sunday. An orientation class for new members is conducted by ministers of the church.

In October a new class will begin on the Book of Revelation led by the Rev. Keith Mitchell. Also, plans are developing for a class of single young adults to begin in October.

Donovan Named to Penal Code Group

The office of the speaker of the State Assembly has announced the appointment of Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan to a Joint Legislative Committee for the Revision of the Penal Code. Five attorneys comprise the Assembly membership of the newly formed committee which had its first interim meeting in San Francisco September 24-25.

"This looks like a monumental task," Donovan commented on learning of his added assignment. "It will constitute a long overdue clearing out of deadwood in our Penal Code. Some of the laws go back to 1840. A complete overhaul will serve to clean up ambiguity and overlapping which can creep in as we amend and add laws to the Penal Code in piecemeal fashion."

Other assembly members named to the committee were: Anthony C. Beilenson, George Deukmejian, John T. Knox, and Gordon H. Winton. Senator Edwin J. Regan will serve as committee chairman.

Women Break Bonds, Invade Male Classes

The ladies have taken over at Mount Miguel Adult School. Dissatisfied with the cultural boundaries that have kept women pent in home economics and dress making classes, the ladies at Mt. Miguel have invaded courses that have been traditionally for men only.

Three women have enrolled in the woodshop class and have been doing as well as the men in furniture making, according to Larry Landon, instructor.

Another male province was encroached upon last year when several ladies successfully completed the radio and basic electronics course.

Enrollment still is being accepted in both of these courses. Radio and Basic Electronics is held in Room 458 from 7 to 10 p.m. every Thursday, and woodshop in Room 459 on the same date at the same time.

For further information call the Mt. Miguel Adult Office at 469-6169.

Bond, Tax Issue Merger Considered

Arthur Elliott, Cajon Valley Elementary School District associate superintendent, met with members of the Grossmont District Committee for Good Schools at Grossmont September 17 to discuss plans for a merger bond and tax-limition election set for October 29. The Grossmont Union High School District group is headed by Jack Mayer and Mrs. Lou Morrow.

The Grossmont District is asking voters to authorize bonds for a new high school in Santee because of crowded conditions at El Capitan, and will ask in a second proposal on the same ballot for a five year renewal of the $1.50 tax limit set by voters two years ago. Grossmont District this year uses $1.23 of that tax rate. Cajon Valley is also asking that the tax limit be renewed. Theirs is $1.99, of which they are using $1.96 this year.

"Since the Cajon District is about one-third of the Grossmont District, it seems practical to join forces in this election," Dr. Elliott said. The merger will allow shared costs and provide unified campaign effort on the part of the workers.

Also discussed at the Grossmont meeting were plans for precinct work, for a speakers' bureau, means for financing the campaign, materials to be used in the campaign.

Phone Workers Get Pay Hike, Medical Benefits

Pacific Telephone and the Communication Workers of America this week reached agreement on two contracts giving wage increases, a new basic hospital-surgical-medical plan and other fringe benefits to 12,500 phone workers in nine Southern California Counties.

The two contracts covering 11,091 plant and 1,555 accounting department men and women will be in operation 38 months.

Wage increases range from $2 to $4.50 a week depending on type of work locattion and place on the job schedule.

For example, in San Diego the top rate for the jobs of cable splicer and PBX installer is increased by $4.50 a week. Beginning wage for Records Clerks in San Diego increases $2 weekly.

Both contracts contain provisions which call for future wage reopeners, the first 14 months after the effective date of the contracts and the second 12 months after that settlement.

The new basic medical expense plan, one of the primary bargaining issues, becoming effective December 1. The company will pay 25 per cent of the initial premium until settlement of the wage reopener scheduled for 1965. At that time the company contribution will increase to 50 per cent of the initial premium.

The plan provides certain hospitalization, surgical fees and other benefits, and it to be extended to all employe's plus pensioners, the company said.

The settlements ended 198 days of negotiations which began last June 3. Both contracts must be ratified by October 4, 1963 by union membership before going into force and effect September 15.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

What's News

Dear Editor:

This newspaper appears to be slipping badly in its concept of the relative importance of news.

It is usual to find two or three items of fifteen to thirty lines devoted to P.T.A. activities. A considerable amount of space is given to pupil's transportation, scholarships, athletics, etc. and also some general news about Grossmont College, San Miguel H.S. and others.

And finally we get a column or more of the delinquencies of Junior. Now it may be that, according to the modern concept of news, that breaking schoolhouse windows, stealing bicycles, automobile hub caps and all other things mentioned should rate the publicity given them in this paper, but it is our opinion that this publicity doesn't help Junior and might better be left out.

Dr. Peck says, in his book that "Junior has taken a back seat in the public interest; that Grandpa is now red hot copy." Of course I don't know what percent of your subscibers are P.T.A. members and what percent are people over sixtyfive, commonly known as Senior Citizens. However some investigation of the division of publicity given to the several groups of your readers could help in maintaining your subscription list at its current high level.

Postal Inspections Formal; Require Written Announcement Now

Earlier this year postal employees in the east county became unionized. Both Lemon Grove and Spring Valley postal workers formed union units which apparently satisfied everyone from the Postmaster General down to the sometimes-overlooked postal patron.

In Lemon Grove the honeymoon was shorter-lived than elsewhere because, our spies inform us, postmen immediately took exception to the time-honored practice of route inspection.

As we understand it, a postal supervisor could surreptitiously follow a postman and note how many saloons he visits, the number of coffee breaks he takes and how much time he takes chatting with Mabel, the pretty housewife at the corner.

The Lemon Grove group soon got all of that put into a different perspective. New rules which the union pushed through denies a supervisor the privilege of investigating these peregrinations willy-nilly.

New rules require the postal supervisors to inform the man on the route that an inspection is going to be held. This must be done in writing and submitted to the person to be under scrutiny a day in advance, we are told.

It all comes under the heading of upgrading the postal service and improving the mail carrier's lot which was one of the promises the Post Office Department made when it also upgraded the cost of stamps earlier this year from 4 to 5 cents.

With the reduction in authority of the supervisors as the costs of stamps has risen, is it fair to assume that they could raise the postage rate another cent and do away with supervision altogether?

Hospital Harvest Ball Committee Chairmen Listed

Mrs. Howard R. Mueller, chairman of the 1963 Harvest Ball of the Grossmont Women's Auxiliary, said this week that all committees are on schedule as the date for the event nears.

The Ball will be at Hotel del Coronado Oct. 19.

Mrs. Mueller, wife of a prominent attorney, listed the following committees and chairmanships: Mrs. Murray W. Hill, co-chairman and chairman of arrangements; Mrs. Ernest Denlinger, decorations chairman; Mrs. Jack M. Harrison, invitations chairman; Mrs. Earl G. Finder, program chairman; Mrs. Edward T. Denny, presentation chairman; Mrs. Robert D. Hall, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Joe R. Miller, ushering chairman.

Mrs. Mueller joined the Auxiliary in 1956 when she started in the hospital on the Second Floor, beginning as one of the first all day volunteers. Later she became chairman of second floor volunteers.

In her recent capacity as chairman of provisionals for two years and co-chairman of Juniors, she has been instrumental in initiating many changes which have resulted in an increased and strengthened program. It was through her recommendation the new Advisory Board for Juniors was established this year.

'ALLAHSMALADIL, TURKEY!' — Sari Wade, Monte Vista high's summer exchange student to Turkey (center back row), poses in Bandirma with her foreign family, Hassim Okay, his wife and two daughters, Sibel and Yuksel. For six weeks she was Sari Wade Okay, who walked with Turks, talked with Surks and found peace with Turks.

Sari Wade Recounts Summer in Bandirma

Sari Wade, 10109 Del Rio Rd, a senior at Monte Vista High School was a foreign exchange student this past summer in Bandirma Turkey from June 26 to August 30. Below she recounts the tale of her trip.

by Sari Wade

I never realized back in November of 1962, how much AFS would mean to me, or even that I would be a member of its organization. At that time, I filled out the many application forms with the appreciated aid of my family and counselor, passed them on to the school for the official signature, said a little prayer, and promptly turned to other activities.

June 7 the special letter arrived from New York — after what seemed months of anxious hope. "Congratulations" it read. "You are to leave for Bandirma, Turkey on June 25!"

Sails Abroad

We — all 800 AFS'ers — sailed from New York Harbor June 26. Behind me lay frantic weeks of preparation, finished with the goodbyes to my family at the Los Angeles airport. Ahead lay 10 days of sailing on the Seven Seas, the German liner especially chartered for AFS, in which I would be able to participate in forums, language classes, twist contests, talent shows, Turkish culture lessons, musicals, hootenannys' and moonlit strolls on the deck. It was like one large family; friendliness and anticipation were two characteristic traits of all AFS'ers on board.

The 72 Turks arrived at Yesilkoy, Istanbul, at 11:30 p.m., July 6. Despite the hour, our welcome was warm and sincere. Since I lived four and one half hours away by ship, I had to wait to meet my family — but the wait was worth it.

Sari Wade Okay

The day I arrived in Bandirma, hundreds of the townspeople were there with a welcome sign saying "Hos Geldiniz", and my family immediately took me into their home and hearts.

For the next six weeks I was Sari Wade Okay. My father, Hassim Okay, was a literature teacher at the town high school; my mother, a wonderful Turkish housewife; and my two sisters, Sibel, 19, and Yuksel, 15, were also my two very best friends. During the summer I spent with the Okay's, I lived exactly as they and most middle class Turkish families lived.

We would often go visiting, or to the cinema, or to one of the lovely sidewalk cafes that graced the lovely harbor of Bandirma. At one time, I traveled with the family to Erdek, a resort area 22 miles away. For 20 days we swam, ate all our meals outside, made many new friends, and enjoyed the sun.

Visit Ends

The happy summer days passed too quickly and the day came when I had to leave my family. It was a very sad parting and we all promised to write at least once a week. I shall never forget the warm hospitality of the Okays.

For our end of stay, the Turkish AFS took us on a tour of Turkey, including visits to the ancient city of Ephesus — so often mentioned in the Bible. We, as an AFS group, also had the special privilege of visiting the last resting place of the Virgin Mary, which was a very solemn and impressive experience.

For our last week we stayed in Istanbul with new families. My new sister, Nese, and I combined seeing the spectacular mosques of Turkey, with shopping in the world-famous bazaar, and swimming in the beautiful Boshphorous. Istanbul is a truly striking and unique city of the world — graceful, mysterious, historic. My family's hospitality made my stay a very happy one there.

Looming Mosques, Goodbyes

August 30, the date of departure, came much too soon. All 72 of us tearfully climbed aboard the plane — I was the last to see the picture all of us will never forget: looming mosques in the Istanbul skyline in the background, and our families sadly waving goodbye in the foreground. Then they closed the plane door behind me and we took off, perhaps never to return.

Each one of us will have our own set of experiences, yet we all share in the gratitude and love we feel for Turkey and her people.

The official AFS motto is "Walk together, talk together, o ye people of the earth. Then and only then, shall ye have peace." I have walked with Turks and talked with Turks, and my heart is at peace with Turks.

Allahsmaladil, Turkey! Cok, cok, tesekkur ederim.

Alcala Guild of the University of San Diego College for Men has chosen a pink and white "Southern Plantation" motif for its annual fashion show and luncheon in the Palm Room of the U. S. Grant Hotel October 19.

The show will be preceded by a social hour at 11:30 featuring music by Pauline Gleason.

The benefit this year will feature the premiere showing of the fall collection of H. Hafter-Jeran's with furs by Graf's. Adding interest to the event will be the appearance of Molly Morse as guest commentator.

The show is open to the public, and proceeds will go to the College for Men. Mrs. John L. Wilper is accepting reservations. Area ticket chairman is Mrs. F. D. McClintock of Lemon Grove.

Local Firms To Promote Ford Showing

Lemon Grove business firms will celebrate the showing of new Fords, Don Johns, chairman of the merchants division of the L. G. Chamber of Commerce said today.

A page announcement, sponsored by members of the division will be published in this newspaper next week.

A parade, free tickets to the Ace Drive-in Theatre, appearance of Miss Lemon Grove and band music will be part of the celebration.

"The automotive business is an important segment of the economy of our community," Johns said. "Scores of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley families earn their income from auto sales and service. Spears is the town's bonafide Ford dealer so a sale, concurrent with the promotion, will be a 'You Can afFORD Sale'," he said.

New Fords are being shown now but the local promotion is scheduled for Friday of next week, Johns said.

NAVY TO OPEN SEVEN SHIPS

Lemon Grove - Spring Valley residents will have a chance to see a big slice of their Navy in San Diego this weekend.

Seven ships, an attack aircraft carrier, two guided missile destroyers, two submarines, a dock landing ship, and a drone recovery ship will be open to the publice from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

San Diego youngsters will be enjoying Kiwanis Kid's Day Saturday, and will be visiting the seapower fleet.

All seven ships will be moored to either Navy or Broadway Piers, located at Harbor dr. and Broadway.

The ships include the USS Ticonderoga, the destroyers USS Henry B. Wilson and USS Berkeley, the USS Salmon and the USS Razorback, and the USS Monticello and the USS Targeteer.

FLYING START — Giving a realistic push to this year United Community Services Fund campaign was the UCS countywide barnstorming flight which arrived at Gillespie Field Monday morning. UCS barnstromers were welcomed by Charles Cordell, left, of the Heartland area. Aboard the plane were Capt. Maurice 'Duke' Ferrara, center, loan executive representing O.W. Todd, Jr., associated areas campaign chairman; Bill Gibbs, right, pilot; Mrs. Charles Jones, UCS Fund Women's Cabinet member; and Al Burgin, representing Carl E. Hartnack, UCS fund president.

Punt, Pass and Kickers To Vie for Capital Tour

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley area grade school boys from eight through 11 can pit their football skills against thousands of other boys throughout the nation in the third annual Punt, Pass and Kick Competition which will culminate with a trip to Washington, D.C., for a White House tour. Winners also will go to Dearborn, Michigan and will appear at the National Football League Championship game.

Sponsored nationally by the Ford Motor Company and the National Football League, the Punt, Pass and Kick Program will be staged in Lemon Grove by Spears Ford, Broadway at Mass, with the Rotary Club of Lemon Grove as local co-sponsor.

Lemon Grove - Spring Valley youths will be tested for their ability to punt, pass and kick footballs (using a kicking tee) on the same day as thousands of other boys all over the country, with warm-up jackets, football helmets and autographed footballs to be given as first, second and third prizes for each age group. Four top Lemon Grove - Spring Valley winners will be chosen. Scores throughout the state then will be compared to determine the four top California winners, and these scores compared to determine the most skillful eight, nine, ten and eleven - year - old fledgling football stars in each of the areas covered by the telecasts of the 14 National Football League teams.

Area winner and their fathers and mothers will receive all-expense-paid trips to a National Football League game in their area, and will compete during halftime to determine the four top Eastern Division winners and four top Western Division winners.

These eight boys, accompanied by their parents, will visit Washington, D.C., where they will tour the White House. They will then travel to Dearborn, Michigan, and tour Greenfield Village. The entire group then will go to the site of the NFL Championship game, for halftime competition to determine the four National winners.

Lloyd Fish, sales manager of Spears Ford, pointed out that there is no body contact necessary in the competition, no charge for entering, and no special equipment needed. "Registration is open until October 11," he said, at Spears Ford, registration headquarters.

"In 1962, the second year of the PPK Program, 431,921 boys entered the competition," he said, "and President Kennedy said 'Programs of this type will enable our youth to build the energy and strength that is their American heritage.' "

Fish said entrants will be judged on the distance and accuracy of their punting, passing and kicking with points awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly and subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line. The Lemon Grove - Spring Valley competition will be held at the L.G. Junior high school play ground on Friday, Oct. 11.

Juan de Labastida Revisits USA as Monte Vista High Exchange Student

SECOND VISIT — Juan de Labastida, foreign exchange student at Monte Vista high school, lived with friends last year in Houston, Texas where he said he learned many American customs. He now lives in Spring Valley at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O. Doran, 9525 Barbic In. Juan is shown above with Stanley McClintic, principal at Monte Vista.

Juan de Labastida of Quito, Ecuador, was not surprised when he reached the United States to begin his year as an American Field Service exchange student at Monte Vista high school.

He spent last year living with friends in Houston, Tex. "I learned a lot of your customs then," Juan said. "When I came back home, I was an American."

Juan was not surprised when he was told he was being sent to the United States, either. In Eduador the AFS students are chosen on the basis of a series of test taken outside the school.

Takes English Test

"The principle of our school said, 'If anyone wants an application for the test please come to my office,' but I didn't go," claimed Juan. "Then a friend said, 'Why don't you take the English test.' He was taking it the same day so I went with him. He didn't get the scholarship, but I did."

Juan has been studying English three hours a week for five years. In Ecuador students are in elementary schools for six years, and then go straight to high school for another six years.

Family Life Similar

He is living with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O. Doran of 9525 Barbic In. in Spring Valley. The Dorans' 12 children prevent Juan from becoming homesick for his own six brothers and sisters.

Family life in Ecuador is the same as in America, Juan said. "However, some of your customs are different; children here have been given more responsibility."

Wants Math Education

The young exchange student hopes to go on to a technical school to learn mathematics. "I must stay two more years in Ecuador" Juan explained. "I will come back to Houston in two years, and attend the technological school there."

Juan would like to become an electrical engineer or a pilot.

"I have to thank everyone because they made an effort to bring me here," Juan concluded." They have given me a chance to live here and have a home, and to learn more about the United States."

Ducks Unlimited To Open Bird Season

San Diego area hunters were told to warn their wives that the 1963 waterfowl season is only a few weeks away.

The warning was issued recently by Toby Caperton, chairman of the San Diego Ducks Unlimited steering committee planning the 20th annual DU fund-raising party to be held October 10 at Hotel Del Coronado.

Not only will local nimrods enjoy a longer season, but the bag limit has been increased by one duck, Caperton said.

The 75-day straight season will open at noon, October 23, and continue through January 5. Bag limits this year will be six ducks daily, six in possession. Canvasbacks and redheads remain on the protected list, and neither species can be taken.

Bert McKee, president of Ducks Unlimited, Inc., who recently completed a tour of Canadian DU projects, reports that Southern California waterfowling should be better than last year. He said that duck flights this year are up 25 per cent over a year ago in Alberta, where many California-bound ducks are raised.

Goose season coincides with duck season, with a daily bag and possession limit of six birds, only three of which may be of the dark species. One Ross's goose may be included.

Brant season will run from November 23 through January 31, with a daily bag and possession limit of three birds.

Since funds derived from the $3 migratory bird hunting stamp can be spent only in the United States, DU volunteer committees throughout the country raise money to perpetuate the duck supply on Canada's prairie breeding areas where the bulk of North American waterfowl rears its young.

Caperton urged all hunters to attend the October 10 DU Party, since proceeds will go towards Ducks Unlimited conservation work. Last year, $12,000 was sent to DU headquarters as a result of the locally-sponsored party. Tickets sell for $15 each and are available from any DU committeeman.

Four Players To Take on LM All Stars

The King and His Court, a four-man softball team, will play the La Mesa All Stars tonight, September 26, at 8 p.m.

The game is being sponsored by the Youth Baseball Council and will be staged on the Helix Pony Field.

When asked about their capabilities and belief in themselves, the team will answer, "We play any team, anywhere, at any time, and we make no exceptions to this rule. City, State, Regional, or even World Champions — all are welcome to challenge us to a game. No challenge will ever be turned down."

The King and His Court have been accepting challenges since the original team came into being in 1946. Since then, the years have rolled swifty along. During sixteen consecutive seasons, Feigner has caused thousands of would-be sluggers to fan the summer breeze, and he and his teammates have rocketed many a pitch over distant fences.

The team has traveled to practically every corner of the United States and parts of East and Western Canada and in numerous foreign countries.

Eddie's pitching record is almost unbelievable. He has pitched 3,000 games lost only 235; tied only 42, and has won 2,723. And, during his lifetime, he has struck out 45,150 batters. He has pitched 461 no-hit games, 858 shut-out games, and 136 perfect games.

THREE TORO TEAMS BULLDOZE OPPONENTS

Pop Warner Los Toros Football Club got off to a bullish start last Saturday when all three Los Toros teams made clean-sweep victories in their first games.

The Los Toros Pewees downed San Diquito 40 to 13; the Midgets cut down Kearney Mesa 21 to 6; and the Bantams, the club's oldest team, rammed Allied Gardens 56 to 7.

Auction To End First Blacksmith

An auctioneer's hammer, one much smaller than the hammer he used to fabricate the myriad metal devices on his forges, will rap out the end of Albert Cronquist's blacksmith shop at Broadway and Massachusetts Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

Cronquist opened the Lemon Grove Forge here in 1941 after he arrived from Sweden and became the first manaufacturing firm in the community. He died at the age of 76 last September and the shop has been closed ever since.

All the equipment, material and even the building used to fabricate ornamental iron and blacksmith products will go under the hammer of Auctioneer "Kemp" Kempton Sunday morning at the shop address, 3452 Massachusetts.

READING CLINIC READIED FOR FALL

El Camino Reading Clinic is now accepting enrollment for the Fall session to start October 1, according to Eli T. Ross, M. Ed. director.

Diagnostic testing and interviewing is underway at the various offices of the clinic's educational training, testing and research centers.

Students attending the El-Camino Reading Clinic will have opportunity to increase their reading skills as much as a full academic year and more in a ten week training period. This will happen at a time when most students are deluged with work and when many educators would expect learning to take place at a moderate pace. For these students the trend will be markedly accelerated.

Defensive Four Provide Punch To Griffin Line

By Norman Hutsell
Grossmont Sports Writer

Grossmont College football opponents this year are going to find it mighty tough to gain any ground with the running game as the Griffins will be putting a defensive four up front with average weight of 250 pounds in a pro-type defensive alignment.

Glenn Cook, 6'7", 275 pounds and Mike Beatty, 6'3" and 260 pounds will take the end positions while the tackles will be manned by 245 pound Jim Nagle of El Cajon and returning letterman standout, Frank Reed.

Beatty and Cook both have fair speed for linemen and possess a desire to "hit someone" and when they are around, it isn't safe for the enemy.

Reed, although a "small" 220 pounds, probably has more "football sense" than either of the two, and Coach Jim Erkenbeck is counting on the former Grossmont High star to lead the defensive unit.

Erkenbeck also feels that Nagle could become one of the better Eastern Conference linemen as "Nagle possesses all the qualities needed in a lineman."

With these four up front, the work should be easier for the Griffin linebackers and defensive backs.

Bob Christian and Rick Eckert are currently holding down the cornerback spots while Bob Stephens and Carl Clendenon are the safties.

The linebacking chores are in the capable hands of Martin Zacavich, Bill Leep and Thad Francis.

Leep weighs 210 while Zacavich and Francis each weigh around 185.

Indian Guides On Warpath For Members

Heartland YMCA Indian Guides are on the warpath for new members, according to Earl Smart, chairman of the Heartland YMCA Board.

Y-Indian Guides is a father-son program designed to develop better understanding between father and son at a very important period in the boy's life. It is ideal for the busy father, as the program requires only two meetings a month. Seven to nine dads form a tribe with their sons; meetings last an hour and rotate from home to home.

The program is simple, with crafts, stories and games woven around plenty of Indian lore and topped off with refreshments, Smart said.

Smart says there are 11 tribes in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area and the 'Y' hopes to add five new tribes next week.

Dad's meetings will be held at the following schools Wednesday, October 2 at 7:30 p.m. Casa de Oro, Golden Ave., Monterey Heights, San Altos, Vista La Mesa and Rancho.

The meetings are open to all dads of first and second grade boys from these or other schools in the area and who are interested in hearing the story of the Y-Indian Guide program. Dads may also call the YMCA at 466-4161.

Candle Talk To Highlight Women's Meet

A unique display of candles and a talk on Candle Shop will be the highlight of the September 27 meeting of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club.

Mrs. Ardith Flynn will present the talk at the meeting which gets underway at 1:30 p.m. at 2810 Main st., Lemon Grove.

Reports will be given of Southern District's meeting where two State Federation Chairmen gave talks. The General Federation's new project, "Dimes for Liberty" crusade, to help provide means for an American Museum of Immigration at the base of the Statue of Liberty was recommended.

The State Conservation project of "Pennies for Pines" which has been promoted for several years, will again be undertaken. Last year's $68 donation to "Pennies for Pines" resulted in the planting of 6,800 pines in Cleveland National Forest in the name of the club. Both projects will be undertaken this year by the Club.

Tea hostesses will be Mrs. Emil Lange, chairman, assisted by Mmes. Winifred Sands, Fred Wright, and Garrett White.
